

ACK &amp; MIZE. Proprietors.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
or New York.For Vice President,
THOMAS A. HENDRICKS, of Indiana.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,
CARTER H. HARRISON.For Lieutenant-Governor,
HENRY SEITER.For Secretary of State,
MICHAEL J. DOUGHERTY.For Auditor of State,
WALTER H. CARLTON.For Treasurer,
ALFRED ORENDRORFF.For Attorney General,
ROBERT L. MCKINLAY.For Clerk of Supreme Court,
E. A. SHIVELY.For Clerk of Appellate Court,
GEORGE W. JONES.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Representative 29th District,
JAMES M. GRAHAM.For Circuit Clerk,
GE. FRIEDMAN.For State Attorney,
A. B. BUCKINGHAM.For Coroner,
PETER PERL.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

The Democracy of the counties comprising the 11th Congressional District of the State of Illinois, are requested to send delegates to the Democratic Convention which will be held at Clinton, —

CLINTON, —
ON TUESDAY, SEPT. 15, 1884, at 10 o'clock, A. M. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress and a candidate for Board of Equalization, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

The counties comprising the district are entitled to one delegate for each 300 votes cast for Hancock and English in 1884, and one delegate for each fraction thereof of 100 votes, and over the counties voted and delegates being as follows:

County. Votes. Delegates

DeWitt. 1846. 6

Logan. 1326. 4

Macon. 532. 17

Put. 188. 1

By order of the

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION COMMITTEE.

ISAAC VANDORSBAND, Chairman.

"TILL THE TRUTH!"

WHERE were the police, when the speakers were being interrupted on Tuesday night?

The congressional convention of this district will meet at Clinton on Tuesday night, and the speakers from Macon county will please take notice.

The democrats expect an explanation from the Wabash railway, for failing to furnish a train on Tuesday night. There will be no more monkey business with democrats hereafter.

AMONG the most enthusiastic, most determined men in line on Tuesday night were nearly three hundred independent Germans. They mean business and will help to make the campaign of 1884 a memorable one.

Is Officer Welty still wearing his star? We expected the chief of police up to see us early yesterday morning to learn of the evidence of the charge, or Welty himself to appear, if innocent, demanding an explanation.

The large number of independent Germans in line, on Tuesday night, one hundred of whom never voted the democratic ticket, was an eye-opener to the republicans. It is a warning that the days of bulldozing by the bosses is at an end.

We are waiting to hear further about the unabated enthusiasm of the Irish employees of the Midland road for Blaine. The Republicans has been telling of Ford in DeWitt county and Nolan in Moultrie. Who are they in Macon county?

We do not hear any more complaints from republicans about the Blaine libel suit. The Sentinel does not wait for the court, but asks to be permitted to take testimony. Mr. Blaine was greatly praised for his promptness in bringing the suit, but it is likely to prove the greatest mistake of his life.

It has been left to Decatur, the banner republican city of Illinois in the election of 1882, the old home of Dick Ogleby, a prohibition city controlled in all its departments by republicans, the seat of the greatest religious and temperance awakenings of the era, a city that has been the pride of all its people, to commit the worst act of vandalism towards political opponents, perpetrated by any city in the country during this campaign.

On Tuesday night a colored democrat from Springfield was attacked by a half dozen Decatur colored men for daring to be a democrat. When remonstrated with they said he might be a democrat if he wished to in Springfield, but it could not be done in Decatur. What would our colored friends say if democrats would resolve not to give any employment to colored men in retaliation for such intolerance. Colored men will say that they know no difference in the politics of the people from whom they get favors. This intolerance by colored men is the natural result of republican teachings.

The great democratic rally is over, and despite the efforts of a certain class of republicans to belittle it in speaking of it, and by sending out false reports of its size and character to the public press, all truthful, honest people admit that it was a magnificent affair for the democracy of Macon county. There were a number of little "hitches" that could not be foreseen; provision had not been made for a sufficient number of torches; the Wabash railroad by some means not yet explained, failed to furnish transportation facilities sufficient from the west and southwest; the Macon county democrats were not trilled to marching with the precision of drilled men; but the good honest masses of democratic and independent voters were here all the same, and addresses were delivered by Ex-Gov. Palmer and Next-Gov. Harrison, and Congressman Eden, equal to the best made anywhere. It was a grand meeting; a meeting of which the democracy can well be proud; it was a meeting which showed plainly the drift of public sentiment in favor of a change; it was a meeting in which independent men showed their preferences in a manner that bodes no good to the party that has heretofore manifested a brow-beating, domineering spirit to all those whom they can influence in that way. All honor is due to the sturdy democracy of Macon county, and the democratic ladies who so heartily and ably seconded their efforts, and to the visitors from other counties. Our opponents may laugh and say that it was a small affair, but the truth still remains that it is the largest purely political demonstration held here during the last twenty-five years.

Mr. Hendrick's Speech.
The bosses of the republican party officially denounce the act of vandalism against the democracy and the good name of our fair city, in cutting the electric light wire soon after the peaking began on Tuesday night. This was not merely an insult to the democracy of Macon county, and to the citizens of Decatur, but an insult to the democracy of the state. We had with us, and who were just beginning their addresses, Ex-Gov. Palmer, a man who in other days the republican party was proud to honor, and one who is now acknowledged by the democracy and by thinking men of all parties, to be one of the ablest, and purest men of the nation; Mayor Harrison, chief executive of the leading city of the west; one who has served with credit in congress; the standard bearer of the democracy of Illinois; a well bred, scholarly gentleman, and an able executive officer. The act was an insult to them, to their friends and the men they represent everywhere. They came here as guests of the democracy, and Decatur without regard to party to party, to the just expectations and requirements of the convention. The responsibility of the office rests upon me also. I know that sometimes it is understood that this particular office, that of vice-president, does not involve much responsibility, and as a general thing that is so. But sometimes it comes to represent very great responsibilities and it may be so in the near future, for at this time the senate of the United States stands almost equally divided between the two great parties and it may be that these two great parties shall so exactly agree that the vice-president of the United States shall have to decide upon questions of law by the exercise of the casting vote. The responsibility would then become very great. It would not then be the responsibility of representing a state or a city. It is the responsibility of representing the whole country, and the obligation would be to the judgment of the whole country, and that vote when this cast should be in evidence to the just expectations and requirements of the people of the United States. It might be gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another occasion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be discharged in obedience to any set of men or to any party, but in obedience to a higher authority. Gentlemen, you have referred to the fact that I am honored by this nomination in a very special degree, and I have the right to choose their party, and the responsibility of representing the people

THE REVIEW.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 11, 1884.

LOCAL PARADES.

The Butler men have a campaign badge. It is a gold spoon.

County Clerk Hardy issued four marriage licenses yesterday.

N. x. Tuesday evening a "Celebrated Case" will be produced here.

J. H. Krebs will open a restaurant on East Prairie street about the 15th inst.

The county fair commences Tuesday. Arrangements are all complete for it.

Invitations are out for the King-Scars wedding which takes place next week.

The potato crop of this locality never was more abundant than it is this season.

Lord & Taylor, of New York, says that Karen Glass is the best, for sale by J. W. Baker. 15th street.

Indiana block coal at all times at Bryan & Hummel's, 155 Merchant St., telephone 196. 10th.

Gloves, collars, lace, handkerchiefs, plumes, tips and fancy feathers at Miss Watson's. 20th and 10th.

Fat sandwiches and good coffee at Hous. Singleton's restaurant on the west side of the old square. 11th.

Some of our neighboring towns hold only half day sessions of the public schools on account of the extreme heat.

Officer John Helmick left yesterday for Huntington, Ill., where his wife has been visiting relatives and friends for several days past.

The democracy of Springfield will have a grand rally on the seventeenth. Decatur will send a large delegation if a special train can be secured.

Mr. George Copenbarger and Miss Nancy Wedekind, both of Mt. Auburn, were married at Mrs. Ditzler's boarding house yesterday, by Squire Albert.

In the matter of "grand rallies" the republicans of Decatur are now somewhat in the condition of eggs about to be incorporated in cakes—they are beaten!

The Turners give their benefit entertainment to their instructor, Herman Weber, this evening, at the opera house. Turn out every one and fill the house.

A Massachusetts woman aged seventeen years has been arrested for having seven husbands. As Massachusetts has 37,000 more women than men this monopoly is unjust, to say the least.

Over four hundred and fifty persons procured meals at the popular restaurant of Averitt & Robbins, on South Water street on "Carter's Day." They serve good rations, and the people seem to know it.

The I. B. & W. pay car arrived here yesterday, and after the employees were paid the car was taken to Peoria by the afternoon train on the P. D. & E. The employees on the Peoria division will be paid to-day.

There will be a mass meeting of Germans at Bloomington, regardless of political parties, on Saturday. Hon. Carl Schurz will be the most prominent speaker present. Visiting delegations from all over the state are expected.

On Monday and Tuesday of each week the Wabash will sell tickets to the St. Louis Exposition, at one and one-third fare for the round trip. On the same days the Wabash and I. B. & W. will sell round trip tickets to Louisville at $10.75.

The McLean county fair is in progress at Bloomington this week. The display in the several departments is said to be pretty good, except in that of cattle, which, probably owing to the reported cases of pleuro-pneumonia, is quite limited.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to George Copenbarger and Miss Nancy Wedekind, of Mt. Auburn, James S. Green, of Charleston, and Miss Bell Callender, of Niantic and Geo. W. Edwards and Miss Mary Leaman, of Cornland.

The supervisors were in session Tuesday and yesterday. On Tuesday evening the majority of the members of the board witnessed the torch-light procession and heard the able and eloquent speeches of Mayor Harrison, Ex Governor Palmer and Hon. John R. Eden.

There was born unto Mr. and Mrs. John F. Archer, on Sunday evening last a bouncing baby boy, "Old man Archer," of the well known agricultural implement firm of Archer & Locher, requests his friends not to make a mistake in the matter of parental identity.

Mr. George Downing and Charles Montgomery were each struck by brickbats, stones, or other missiles, while parading in the democratic procession on Tuesday evening. Mr. Jones, who carried the banner that was demolished, has also struck several times, but sustained no serious injury.

Alderman Shoemaker did a good thing at the council meeting Monday evening, when he introduced the resolution to have the mayor authorized to instruct the police to kill the worthless curs that infest our streets. On and after the fifteenth of this month all dogs found without a collar will be killed.

The following attraction will be at the opera house during the fair: Basye's Standard Dramatic Company, Tuesday night, in "A Celebrated Case"; James Wallace, Wednesday night, in "The Bad Girl King"; Joe Jefferson, Friday night, in "Cricket in the Heart"; and "Lead me Five Shillings"; Aldrich & Parson, "I'm My Partner," Saturday night.

Democracy Rally Notes.

The democrats were not disappointed with their afternoon or evening meetings. It's the republicans who are disappointed. They hoped to see both meetings a failure.

There were two hundred and forty-eight Germans in the democratic procession Tuesday evening. A hundred of these have never voted anything but the republican ticket, but this fall they will vote for Harrison. No wonder the republicans feel sick.

Hon. Carter Harrison spent Tuesday night at the St. Nicholas and yesterday morning at seven o'clock, he left for Mt. Pulaski, where he addressed a large meeting of old settlers. General Oglebay was also there, while in this city Mayor Harrison made hosts of friends among the republicans as well as the democrats. He is a cultured gentleman and an able speaker.

There would have been several thousand more people in this city to attend the rally had not the Wabash and Central gone back on their promises. A train was to have been run over the former from Taylorville and over the latter from Pana. All along the line people were at the depot ready to come, but they were disappointed. It was a mean trick in both companies.

Liberal republicans concede the rally to be the most successful held for years, but a few of the cranks can't help lying about it. For them to try to undermine the demonstration in the estimation of those who saw it, is nonsense.

M. M. Dickerson, of Monticello, attended the rally and subscribed for the Review. He was well pleased with Harrison.

Gov Palmer returned to Springfield yesterday. His speech Tuesday afternoon was as fair and impartial as any man could make.

There seems to be a disposition on the part of our republican friends to misrepresent the number of torches which were carried in the procession night before last. We have gone to the trouble of accounting from reliable sources, the exact truth of the matter, and we are ready to show that over 2,000 torches were in the procession. Mr. I. D. Walker, says that all of the torches owned by the Decatur club, 810 in number, were used for him attended to that matter. He makes the following report of the balance: 175 carried by Sullivan; 300 were borrowed by the Decatur club from Springfield and 100 from Monticello, every one of which was carried in the procession. This makes a total of 1,885 that were under the supervision of the Decatur club. To this should be added the 450 borne by the Springfield club, 50 carried by Wheatland, 200 carried by Tuscola and 100 by Monroeville.

RECAPITULATION.
Torches distributed by Decatur, 1,885
" from Springfield..... 450
" from Wheatland..... 50
" from Tuscola..... 200
" from Monroeville..... 100
Total..... 2,219

It will not be disputed that there were 300 in the procession who had no torches, so that it is safe to say that there were at least 25,000 in the procession. It was the largest procession that Decatur ever had upon any occasion.

Disgraceful!

The many acts of vandalism which occurred during the democratic rally are a disgrace to the republican party and this city. One of the meanest and most contemptible things that occurred, was at the depot about midnight, as the Springfield delegation was returning home. A party of colored republicans in this city went to the depot and made themselves obnoxious by singing their campaign songs and insulting the visitors by words and actions. They were enraged because there was a couple of colored torch bearers with the Springfield boys, and endeavored to get fight out of them. When the train was pulling out, they gathered up bricks and fired them through the coach windows. There were many ladies and children in the coach, but the scoundrels hadn't the slightest respect for them and it is a wonder that some of them were not injured. Several men were struck with bricks and one was very seriously injured. A gash was cut in his head and he had to be removed from the train to one of the hotels on the levee, where the wound was washed and dressed. It's a shame that men must be thus molested because they dare to maintain and adhere to democratic principles. The disgraceful conduct on the part of some republicans Tuesday night, is of course condemned by the better element of the party, for it disgraces them as well as the hoodlum element.

$10 Reward.

The democratic county central committee will pay a reward of ten dollars for the discovery and proof sufficient to convict the scoundrels who threw the missiles at the transparencies carried in the democratic torchlight procession, and a like reward for the discovery and proof to convict the miscreant who tampered with the wires of the Electric Light Co., and a like reward for the names of the hoodlums who took part in disturbing the meeting at the tabernacle; all disturbers of public meetings will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

B. K. Durrer, Chairman.

R. E. Pratt, Secretary.

A Celebrated Case.

On next Tuesday evening Basye's Standard Dramatic Company will produce "A Celebrated Case" at the opera house, with Miss Emma Salisbury in one of the leading roles. She is a superb little actress and always pleases her audience. The Leadville Journal says, "Miss Emma Salisbury won laurels in her impersonation of Adrienne in the Celebrated Case and displayed a cultur'd acquaintance with the difficult role.

Niantic.

The meeting of the democratic club on Saturday night of last week was well attended. Mr. C. A. Ewing of Decatur addressed the meeting in a speech of an hour and a half, in which he fairly and impartially discussed the propositions of the republican platform favoring national control of railroads and a national system of education. Mr. Ewing was favored with close attention by the audience, his speech eliciting very favorable comment. It was decided to attend the Harrison meeting as a delegation, and to secure the services of the Niantic band. Sufficient money was secured on Tuesday to pay them the necessary amount. .... The prohibitionist held the much talked of out door meeting to-day in Dingman's grove. It proved to be a very poorly attended meeting. They were unfortunate in the choice of their day, everybody being exhausted after the Harrison rally. Captain Post of Decatur will address the citizens to-night from the band stand. .... Miss May Goody, who has been visiting in Ohio, returned to-day. Miss May is a very proficient shorthand writer, and her services are in constant demand. We are proud of Miss May's advancement, as we are ever proud of young persons who strive to be and do. .... J. M. Graham addressed the Cleveland and Hendricks club at Illinois on Saturday evening. He reports a very successful meeting and much enthusiasm. .... Reuben Lyon and a young son of Jerry Freeman, while marching in the procession Tuesday night, were struck by bricks thrown by some cowardly villain, and seriously cut about the face. Shaw on the thing in the guise of man who would do such a dastardly thing. It is not fit to live. .... Our boys were considerably disappointed over the failure to procure lamps on Tuesday evening. Not over a third of the delegation succeeded in getting one.

Dalton City.

Hon. T. N. Henry, of Windsor treated our people to an excellent speech on Saturday evening. Owing to the democratic rally and pole raising at Mt. Zion, the crowd was not large, but the speech was well appreciated by both democrats and republicans. S. M. Smyser, of Sullivan, followed Mr. Henry in a few pointed remarks. G. W. Payne, Joe Ticus, and Judge Meeker of Sullivan, accompanied the speakers to our place on Saturday. .... After speeches on Saturday evening a Cleveland and Hendricks club was organized in 1835 in number. .... James Berry and wife are in Indiana. .... John W. H. Hollingshead of Windsor, is visiting his brother, E. P. Hollingshead. .... Hon. T. N. Henry and wife visited and visited Mr. and Mrs. James Handly, over Sunday evening. Wm. Rogers, L. Renfro and Mike Duzan, are among the new subscribers for the weekly Review.

Mt. Zion.

The democratic speaking and polarizing here on Saturday was a complete success. Interesting addresses were delivered by Mr. J. M. Graham, I. A. Buckingham and Thomas Lee. The pole raised was a tall stick high and is a dandy. .... Wm. Conn, our freight agent, was in Peoria on Wednesday and Thursday on business for the company. .... Rev. Bryant, the M. E. minister, preached his farewell sermon at this place on last Sunday. .... Miss Sophie Hulke, of Decatur, who has been the guest of the Misses Maria and Nannie Smith, for a few days, returned home Tuesday. .... B. F. Rose is on the sick list and is at home. .... Ed. Goff, operator for the Midland at Peoria, was in town Sunday evening. .... Our republican friends are making great preparations for a grand rally and Polo raising here on next Saturday.

Power of Money.

The fall and winter amusement season was opened at the opera house last evening by Morris and Bock's "Power of Money" combination. The play is a thrilling melo-drama, and its production last evening was highly pleasing. More beautiful and attractive scenery has seldom been exhibited on the Decatur stage. The scenes showing the French market, at New Orleans and a night view of the Mississippi, the great inundation scene and the representation of a grotto in Mammoth cave, are worthy the highest praise, especially the latter which was beautiful beyond description. The acting was good throughout and the many thrilling situations were received with applause by the audience. The evening was warm, but the house was well filled and all were satisfied with the entertainment. Having opened the season Manager Haines will now present to Decatur people the best companies on the road. Next week there will be a number of attractions at the opera house, the first being "A Celebrated Case," which will be produced Tuesday evening.

Turner to Dakota.

On September 18th the Illinois Central will sell round trip land exploring tickets good for forty days, to the following points in Dakota at the rate of $22.50: Bismarck, Lt. Morris, Devil's Lake, Crockston, Carrington, Mandan, Neche and Grand Forks.

Notice.

All persons who took torches home with them on Tuesday night, will please return them to the club room at democratic headquarters. By order of Ex. Com.

850 Reward.

I will pay fifty dollars reward for any information that will lead to the detection and arrest of the rascal that cut the electric light wire on last evening and see that he is vigorously prosecuted. It is time that sort of business was stopped in this community.

W. W. Fostga, Sheriff.

DOCTORS AND DOCTRINES.

Whatever Cruel Creeds May Say, Truth is Always Orthodoxy.

"You know the old saying, 'Doctor, Did you die, skip other patients?' There are three who die," laughed Rev. Apollo Croomes, the other day, to his friend, Dr. S. M. Smyser, who had dropped in to see him.

"Well, I've had a fit and I'll be a fit again," said the Doctor, fighting his pipe. "I tell you, minnie, you're way off when you think our research isn't doing no good work in this world. It's a good deal of work, but it's not all work. It's a good deal of fun, but it's not all fun. It's a good deal of hard work, but it's not all hard work. It's a good deal of trouble, but it's not all trouble. It's a good deal of trouble, but it's not all trouble."

ANTHROPHOROS regenerates painful nerves and drives out the horrors of Neuralgia.

ANTHROPHOROS gives health to Rheumatic sufferers whom the most skillful physicians have not been able to help.

ANTHROPHOROS operates on the blood, muscles and joints, and dissolving the acids that cause Rheumatism, removes them from the system.

ANTHROPHOROS is pronounced by all who have tried it an infallible specific for these obstinate and painful diseases.

Read the testimony of one of the sufferers: David Little, Sumner, Bearer, Co., Iowa, writes:

"I am nearly 70 years of age, have had the Rheumatism three years and eight months; lost one-third of my weight; could not walk, but shuffled along on crutches; could not sleep; nerves tired out, could not stand; was in great pain, and could not bear to sit. But thanks to God for your great discovery! The medicine started Saturday night. I took a dose Sunday morning, and it set me right away, and I can now walk, and I can stand, and I can sit, and I can sleep. I would give a million dollars for this medicine."

"But, Doctor," said Rev. Mr. Croomes, "you know that your materia medica shows a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle."

"Bah!" interrupted Dr. S. M. Smyser, "we show a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle, but we don't know what it does."

"Well, I've had a fit and I'll be a fit again," said the Doctor, fighting his pipe.

"I tell you, minnie, you're way off when you think our research isn't doing no good work in this world. It's a good deal of work, but it's not all work. It's a good deal of fun, but it's not all fun. It's a good deal of trouble, but it's not all trouble."

"But, Doctor," said Rev. Mr. Croomes, "you know that your materia medica shows a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle."

"Bah!" interrupted Dr. S. M. Smyser, "we show a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle, but we don't know what it does."

"Well, I've had a fit and I'll be a fit again," said the Doctor, fighting his pipe.

"I tell you, minnie, you're way off when you think our research isn't doing no good work in this world. It's a good deal of work, but it's not all work. It's a good deal of fun, but it's not all fun. It's a good deal of trouble, but it's not all trouble."

"But, Doctor," said Rev. Mr. Croomes, "you know that your materia medica shows a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle."

"Bah!" interrupted Dr. S. M. Smyser, "we show a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle, but we don't know what it does."

"Well, I've had a fit and I'll be a fit again," said the Doctor, fighting his pipe.

"I tell you, minnie, you're way off when you think our research isn't doing no good work in this world. It's a good deal of work, but it's not all work. It's a good deal of fun, but it's not all fun. It's a good deal of trouble, but it's not all trouble."

"But, Doctor," said Rev. Mr. Croomes, "you know that your materia medica shows a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle."

"Bah!" interrupted Dr. S. M. Smyser, "we show a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle, but we don't know what it does."

"Well, I've had a fit and I'll be a fit again," said the Doctor, fighting his pipe.

"I tell you, minnie, you're way off when you think our research isn't doing no good work in this world. It's a good deal of work, but it's not all work. It's a good deal of fun, but it's not all fun. It's a good deal of trouble, but it's not all trouble."

"But, Doctor," said Rev. Mr. Croomes, "you know that your materia medica shows a tendon to be a tendon, and a muscle to be a muscle."

"Bah!" interrupted Dr

THE CAMPAIGN.

Missouri Republicans Meet and Denounce Governor Crittenden's Alliance with Frank James.

Governor Robie's Majority in Maine Will Reach About 17,000—Congressman Reed's Plurality, 915.

Governor Cleveland to Visit Chicago this Month—New Candidates for Congress.

Other Political Notes.

MISSOURI REPUBLICANS.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 10.—Chairman William Warner, of the State Central Committee, called the Republican State Convention to order yesterday morning. He said the work in hand was to deliver the state from the Frank James Democracy. Judge Wagner, of St. Louis was made temporary Chairman. On taking the chair he catalogued the work of the Chicago Convention. In regard to the Missouri administration he said:

Assassination has been committed by high-timers, outlaws and desperadoes in their interest. The criminal laws have been made a farce by the exercise of the pardoning power in favor of men who have violated the law merely because they were friends of officials.

The organization of the convention was completed by the appointment of the usual committees, and one special committee was delegated to consider the question of uniting with all the political elements of the state that are opposed to the Democratic party. Pending committee action a recess was taken.

On reassembling General D. P. Grier, of St. Louis, was made permanent Chairman, and F. W. Moe, of St. Louis, Secretary. General Grier made a speech arraigning the Democratic party for its abuses in the state. Government of Missouri. He said that the Democrats of this city wanted a good man nominated for whom they could vote as against General Marmaduke. A resolution denouncing the nomination of Marmaduke as a premium on rebellion was referred, as was one declaring it unsafe for the assembly to indulge in any further legislation relative to the liquor trade until the present laws had been tested. A platform was adopted endorsing President Arthur's administration and the action of the Chicago Convention, and denouncing the Democracy of Missouri for ignoring the union element in the state when the Republican party had received every disability growing out of the rebellion. It censured the deportations of the Negroes from the Democracy to the Republicans.

We protest against the Democratic alliance for protection with notables and confessed outlaws whose presence in Missouri has driven numbers from their ranks. The two parties are irreconcileable, and all of this has manifested in the nomination of the president in the state ticket at the head of which has been placed a man who has been a tool to another in his treasonous position in the army recently waging war against the Government for which he was educated.

The platform demands the restraint of corporations, the return of the convict labor system, and extols the record of the Republicans.

The Conference Committee representing the anti-slavery elements that were present reported at length, naming Nicholas Ford, of Buchanan County, for Governor. The platform was completed as follows:

Louisiana: Governor H. M. Starkweather of St. Louis; Lieutenant-G. J. Thompson, Sedalia; Author Jacob Sandusky, Adel; Attorney-General Jacob Murphy, St. Louis; Senator of the State Court, David Warner.

The convention then adjourned.

THE HUSTLE IN MAINE.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 10.—The latest returns show the Republicans have added 117 Representatives to thirty-four by the Democrats, a Republican gain of seven. Full returns from the First Congressional District give Root, Republican, 17,584; Cleaves, Democrat, 16,580. Root's plurality, 915. In 1880, Root's plurality was 117, and his vote 15,920. The entire Republican county ticket is elected by a big majority.

Mr. Blaine remained at home yesterday. Among his callers were Governor Robie, ex-Secretary of the Navy, Nathan Goff, Jr., of West Virginia; John S. Williams, President of the Maine Senate, and William H. Cameron, of the Post-office Department.

Blaine received a large number of delegations constituting him on the result of the Maine election.

ARGENTINA, Mo., Sept. 10.—The following telegram has been sent by P. M. Sturmer, Mayor to Secretary Resendeen, of the Republican National Convention:

"On the 1st of November we have swept the State, and it is to be governed by the 15,000 majority. My ballot gave 14,000, and the 2,000 that was there before me, and the 1,000 that was before me, gives a 4,000 majority."

At 12 m., Sept. 10, the following wire was sent to General Logan yesterday:

"The result of the election may be that the Republicans have a majority in the State with the possible exception of two, which is very close. They have elected twenty-nine Senators and the members of the House of Representatives in the Legislature, who have elected four Representatives in Congress by large majorities, and are to be seated in the House of Representatives on the 1st of December. The Republican vote will reach nearly 14,000—14,000 to 13,000, larger than ever cast before. Our candidate is the largest, and the other three are the Presidential candidates. It is said he and the other three candidates will be arrested."

WALKER BLAINE,
CLEVELAND COMING WEST.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10.—Governor Cleveland, the Democratic candidate for President, is expected to go to Chicago on the 1st of September. He comes, it is said, on private business, and intended calling some member of the commission house, which he has done.

The announcement of the possibility of his visit was made at the Iroquois Club last night by Judge George W. Cuthran, who has just arrived from New York. He said that a few days ago he saw Governor Cleveland, who informed him of the intended visit. As General W. S. Hancock and Governor Hendricks have consented to be present at a demonstration to be held in Chicago the latter part of September, an endeavor will be made to make the occasion of the Governor's visit.

The Democratic Committee of the Iroquois Club authorized its Committee on Arrangements to make arrangements for a reception to the Governor, should he be fortunate to visit Chicago.

CLEVELAND: FISHERS OFFER METTING ODDS.

New York, Sept. 10.—The betting men of Baltimore are laying for investments on the following basis: $1,000 to $750 that he will carry New York State by 25,000 majority; $1,000 even that he will have 40,000 majority in this State; $1,000 to $500 that Cleveland will carry this State.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.